

The Colorado Association of School Resource Officers is pleased to host a special workshop and networking session for .....

Supervisors of School Resource Officers and School Administrators Who Oversee SRO programs

..... in conjunction with CASRO's annual Safe Schools conference.

10 a.m. to Noon, Monday, July 7, 2008

Marriott Hotel, 350 E Horsetooth Rd, - (970) 226-5200 Fort Collins, Colorado

This two-hour workshop is a networking opportunity to:

- Share examples of what works well
- Learn about models, procedures, and resources from other agencies to adapt locally
- Problem-solve situations through creative brainstorming or by learning how others have solved similar problems

Agenda:

10 – 10:15 AM	Welcome and Introductions
10:15 – 10:45	Presentation re: Student Discipline and Reporting, State Laws and Recent Analysis
10:45 – 11:15	Policy discussion questions: What is being done regarding local data analysis, referrals to law enforcement, consensus building between police and schools, etc. Question: Is there a growing reliance on the criminal justice system to solve school discipline problems?
11:15 – Noon	Open forum for networking on issues selected by participants

Please bring:

- Sample handouts to share, such as inter-agency agreements, written policies, forms, or other tools/resources, that you think others may find helpful.

Directions: The Marriott is on the north side of Horsetooth Road about two blocks east of S. College Avenue (Hwy. 287). From I-25, exit on Harmony Road. Go west to College, then north a few blocks to Horsetooth. Turn east.

About your facilitator:

Janelle Krueger has been a consultant in the Prevention Initiatives Unit of the Colorado Department of Education since 1990. She has bachelor and masters degrees in Criminal Justice and was a commissioned peace officer with the Boulder County Sheriff's Department, both full time and as a reserve, for a total of 15 years. She specializes in police-school partnerships because of a long-standing interest in juvenile delinquency prevention and cross-disciplinary collaboration. She manages the federal Safe and Drug-Free Schools and Communities program and is the Department's Homeland Security Coordinator. She was honored with a lifetime membership by CASRO and has served as their educational advisor on the board for eleven years.
